

Year 3's Weekly Celebration of Learning

24.04.20

Wow! Well done Year 3. This week, we have been highly impressed by all of the fantastic work sent through and, more importantly, the motivated and positive learning attitudes. We know Google Classroom is brand new and we think you have done a fantastic job getting to grips with it this week. We have seen some fantastic plant sculptures and have been really impressed with how much you already know about the Stone Age! It would seem selfish of us to keep all of your brilliant work to ourselves, so each week we shall post a few pieces on a weekly newsletter which will go on Google Classroom and the school website, so make sure you send your work through! Thank you as well to all parents who are supporting home learning. We appreciate how challenging this can be at times and you are all handling it like superstars... you have definitely earned yourself a treat. We know there have been some technical glitches and we want to thank you for your patience. Have a wonderful, relaxing weekend! – Mrs Ali and Miss Tamimi

Reminders –

- If you have not yet given permission for your child's work to appear on Pobble/the school website and are happy for it to be shared, please confirm that with the class teacher.
- Keep practising on Times Table Rockstars and taking Accelerated Reader quizzes on the books you read. Do get in touch if you need any log ins

FACT FILE SABRE TOOTH TIGERS

- Sabre tooth tigers (aka Smilodons) lived around 11,000 years ago.
- They lived in the A's: Americas, Africa and Asia.
- They are carnivores and they're closest living descendants are modern cats.
- Size: 4m long, 2.6m tall.
- They can open their jaw an amazing 90 degrees!
- They have canine teeth which are shaped like a Sabre (a type of sword) - which is where they get their name. You can see these teeth - even when their mouth's are shut.
- It takes them three years to grow to full size.
- They are built more like bears than cats with fur like a leopard and very strong neck muscles.
- They are super fast and can run up to 30mph (48kph).
