

Year 6's Weekly Celebration of Learning

15.05.20

Thank you for completing and sharing a whole range of work again this week. It's great to see so many of you getting involved.

Tornado

Blurry mist swerling from the sky,
Destroying anything as it goes by,
Electric lightning coming,
Tornadoes humming,
Leaving people homeless,
Making loads of mess,
As people try to take cover,
People aren't a lover,

For a tornado destroys another.

Geri sat forward, whilst his arms dangled down off the chair, his head shot ahead with the biggest frown anybody will ever see. He was as still as a statue trying to figure out his next move.

Geri's mouth dropped open by seeing what his opponent did, Geri wasn't sure what to do. He sat there in shock whilst his opponent started laughing.

An ominous red stain. And still the tornado rages... The phenomenon is devastating. Everything comes down to your courage. Inside the tornado you watch as people are hurled out. Only a matter of time before... The tornado is devastating. But then Light Hope The tornado falls, weakened You fall, laughing in ecstasy The nightmare is over. BH Cedar | Sweat trickling down his back, his hands shook as he took his turn, he had butterflies in his stomach, and was struggling to speak. He noticed that his hands were getting wetter and wetter. His heart was jumping out of his chest and couldn't breathe. His mouth was dry and he couldn't talk, his legs were like jelly and his arms like spaghetti. His stomach was so sore he could throw up. Geris's shoulders as low as the floor, his eyes flowing with tears and his back arched and crooked.
